TO OUR PATRONS,

One and all, a kindly greeting and a "HAPPY NEW YEAR!"

The publisher having, since assuming, about a year ago, the management of MENDELSON'S NATIONAL BANK NOTE REPORTER AND FINANCIAL GAZETTE and [illegible] volume whereof commences with the present number—received gratifying proofs, that his endeavor, to make this Reporter the most reliable and valuable publication of its kind, was not in vain, but kindly recognized by a patronizing public, begs to hereby cordially thank his Patrons for past favors and to solicit their continuance in the future.

Though this publication is intended, and by most of our subscribers taken and accepted as not merely a "Counterfeit Detecter," but a "Bank Note Reporter and Financial Gazette," yet one of its integral features consists in describing the many counterfeits in circulation and especially reporting new ones as soon as they appear. Therefore, the following remarks may not be inappropriate.

That there is an immense amount of counterfeits in circulation cannot be denied; and, unless the public at large are more careful in the handling of money, the country will soon be literally swamped with all kinds of bogus money. Hardly a week passes, but that there is one or more new counterfeits put into circulation. True, some of these counterfeits are so well executed as to almost defy detection, even by experts. Besides, the bills of all the National Banks being printed from one set of plates, makes the work of counterfeiters comparatively easy, as one good plate can be altered to over 1600 different banks. But the main fault of this daily increasing evil, which, if going on, cannot fail to ultimately disastrously affect the whole community, lies in the carelessness, yea, the criminality of the general public. It is astonishing how men, who would not for any amount of money, commit a criminal act of another nature, will, when notified that they have taken a counterfeit, readily answer: "Well, I took it in good faith, and somobody else will have to suffer; pass it along;" or, "Never mind, that will pass; throw it in the drawer." Or, "So long as it passes it is good enough." No wonder that our agents, when soliciting subscriptions, are frequently met with such remarks, as, "We dont want your Reporter; have no use for it; know all about money; it's all good, so long as it passes; that's all we want." But as the United States Treasury is calling in the 2s, 5s, 10s, 20s, 50s, and 100s of its greenbacks, to have them replaced by a new issue of bills from new plates, different in design and execution; as, furthermore, our National bank notes are likely to be called in soon also, in order to be replaced by another issue, more difficult to counterfeit—the day of reckoning will come, when, all the genuine bills once redeemed, these, who "take and give in payment anything that will pass," will find themselves possessed of lots of stuff which nobody will redeem except perhaps the curiosity dealer or the rag-picker. Therefore, the business public had better take this warning, and instead of giving a cold shoulder to our agents, readily subscribe to them, or remit to this office for the Reporter, and consult it before taking any bill. We shall not fail to always keep them on the "qui vive" on the matter of counterfeits, whilst our "Diagrams" will teach them how to become experts.

LATEST COUNTERFEIT.

TRADESMEN'S NAT. BK, N. Y. CITY.

20s are reported in circulation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23, 1869.

The latest weekly statement of our city banks show a greatly reduced legal tender reserve. But as the "cliques," who still control almost every branch of the New York Stock E[illegible]ge, including the money market, want the public to buy part of their heavy loads of inflated stock-bubbles, and do not therefore artificially augment the scarcity of money; as, furthermore, currency shipments to the South and Southwest have been but small of late, and counterbalanced by remittances from the East—the money market has been of late, and is likely to remain to the end of this month and year, easy for call-loans at 6@7 per cent on governments and inferior collaterals respectively. For discounts, applications at the banks are fairly active, and to old customers granted at 7 per cent. A number of failures in mercantile circles were announced lately; but as, notwithstanding, the heavy and too sudden decline of gold, which was likely to disastrously affect importers and jobbers, the aggregate amounts involved in this year's mercantile failures was considerably below last years, money lenders, outside of banks, were better disposed to loan on time, and to discount prime commercial acceptances at 8@12 per cent, or single names at 12@20.

Gold, to-day, fluctuated between 120¼@121. It sold within the week as low as 119⅜—the lowest figure ever attained since the battle of Antietam. We cannot refrain from reproducing the following table of its fluctuations in this city during the past eight years.

The following extracts from the Report of Commissioner WELLS in regard to the "Reduction of the National Debt, Resumption af Specie Payment, and Taxation," deserve a most careful perusal.

REDUCTION OF THE NATIONAL DEBT.

"On the 1st of September, 1865, the amount of the public debt, then at its maximum, was, less cash in the Treasury, $2,757,689,571.43. At the commencement of the present fiscal year, July 1, 1869, the amount of the public debt, less cash and sinking fund in the treasury, was $2,489,002,480.58, showing a reduction to that date of $268,687,090.85. Within the same period, taxes which if continued to the present time would have yielded, in the aggregate, upwards of $200,000,000 per annum, have also been abated or relinquished. To find a parallel to such results, the financial history of other nations will be searched to no purpose.

The amount of the public debt on the 1st of December, 1869, less cash and sinking fund in the treasury, was $2,453,559,735.23, making a total reduction since the 1st of September, 1865, of $304,129,836,20, and for the current calendar year of $89,147,466.02."

RESUMPTION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.

As to the resumption of specie payments, Mr. Wells argues that unless resumption implies contraction it will cure but a small portion of existing evils. If it were possible to substitute 700,000,000 of gold dollars for the 700,000,000 of paper dollars in circulation, and to hold that amount in the country, there would be the same inflation of prices, the same disproportion between imports and exports, and the same inability to dispose of the products of domestic industry in foreign markets. To be sure, it would be impossible to retain such an amount of gold in the country except by laws of impossible barbarism; but wherein would the reduction of the gold currency then, through exportation, differ from the reduction of the present paper currency through a judicious and well ordered withdrawal.

There is no such thing possible as the resumption and continuance of specie payments with a continuance of our abnormal system of foreign trade and exchanges; and for the simple reason that gold will not stay here, and would long ago have left us to the last dollar, had not the bonds of the National Government been available for the settlement of adverse foreign balances in the place of gold. We must reduce prices, so that foreign nations will be willing, because it is for their interest, to exchange product for product. And to accomplish this, there must be contraction, for, to reduce prices permanently and equitably, while maintaining $700,000,000 of irredeemable paper money, is simply an impossibility.

Seven hundred millions of paper money could not be kept redeemable with less than seven hundred millions of gold, because with such an amount of currency it would inevitably be depreciated, and hence gold would bear a premium which every holder of paper would be desirous to realize. With four hundred millions of paper, on the other hand, a hundred millions of gold would probably be ample, because the currency, not being in excess of the wants of commerce, would not suffer depreciation, and, gold and paper being on otherwise equal terms, paper would be preferred for its greater convenience in use, just as in 1860 the banks were fully able to redeem all of their circulation which was presented for payment, although having but 18 cents of specie on each dollar of immediate liabilities. It is not the ratio between gold and paper that needs to be regulated, but the ratio between the amount of paper in circulation and the volume of National production and exchange, of which it is the instrument.

The Commissioner, in view of the above considerations, is constrained to believe that contraction, direct and undisguised, is the one necessity of the situation.

TAXATION.

In considering the question of future taxation, the Commissioner estimates that at the present rates the surplus for 1869–70 will exceed that of 1868–69, viz.: $80,000,000. The gain for the same time by the reduction of expenditures is estimated at $26 000,000. We shall also gain, he thinks, by the elasticity of the revenue, say from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. The sum of these items makes the estimated surplus for the current fiscal year $124,000,000.

The possession of a surplus so large invests with more than ordinary interest the question of its disposition. Shall the whole of the sum be applied to the reduction of the principal of the national debt, or shall a fair proportion of it be remitted to the people by the abatement or removal of their taxes? Of these two courses the Commissioner unhesitatingly declares his conviction that the latter is the more expedient—if indeed it is not absolutely imperative, demanded alike by the highest economical considerations and by the almost unanimous sentiment of the people. With this view he proposes that the sum of fifty millions of dollars be taken as the measure of the taxes to be removed or reduced, and that such reduction should be directed, first, to relieving industry as much as possible of unnecessary burdens, and allowing it to obtain its material at the minimum cost; and, secondly, to the diminution of the cost of the elements of living to the great mass of the people, in their capacity as consumers, irrespective of the consideration whether they are or are not producers of wealth.

The three principal sources of receipts under the Internal Revenue are the taxes on distilled spirits and fermented liquors, on tobacco and on incomes. The rate of taxation on the first of these two has been fixed at a standard which the experience of the past year has proved to be most productive. The taxes on whisky, beer and tobacco should not, in the opinion of the Commissioner, be modified, unless it is desired to repeat the disagreeable experience of former years, and to perpetuate the power of corrupt organizations.

The tax levied under the head of incomes is of a different character, and demands essential modifications. The Commissioner would recommend that, beginning with the next regular assessment, the present rate of five per cent be reduced to three per cent upon the net incomes of individuals. He also recommends that the absolute exemption remain as at present fixed at $1,000, but that the exemption on account of rent be strictly limited to an amount sufficient to relieve from taxation the rentals of the laboring class; for instance, $200. He further recommends the repeal of the following taxes:

1. The whole body of what is known as special taxes or licenses—those levied on banks and bankers, and upon manufacturers and dealers in spirits, beer, and tobacco, being, however, retained. The loss of revenue on this amount will not be in excess of ten millions of dollars.

2. The taxes on the gross receipts of railroads, stage coaches, insurance, telegraph and express companies, canals, ferries, ships, barges, and steamboats. The loss of revenue from this source will not be in excess of seven millions of dollars.

3. The taxes on the sales of articles not otherwise specially taxed. The receipts from this source will approximate eight millions.

Allowing, then, for the extreme possible loss under incomes, the amount of taxation above proposed to be remitted to the people in consideration of the present large surplus of receipts over expenditures, would be in the neighborhood of $26 000,000.

Another Counterfeit Ten Dollar Bank Plate Given Up.

The following letter was received by Col. H. C. Whitley, at his headquarters on the 11th inst., which is given verbatim:—

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11, 1869.

Col. H. C. WHITLEY,

Chief of the U. S. Detective Force.

DEAR SIR—I enclose with this letter a certificate Ten Dollar National Bank Note Plate This plate was made for me, by one of the best Engravers in the United States, as you will see when you come to examine it, I paid Two Thousand Dollars to have it done well, with the hope of making a speedy fortune. You may be anxious to know the Engravers name. Suffice it to say that he no longer dwells on the earth, that he has already gone the road which I will soon have to travell: After having spent twelve years, of my life in derrauding my fellow men, I have paid many Thousand Dollars, to keep out of prison, althow I have never been arrested in my life, to-day I am poor in purse and broken in Spirit, upright before the world, but guilty in my own conscience, I have abandoned counterfeiting forever and destroyed every vestige of my guilt. Accept this plate I send you, which I assure you has never been used, for two reasons I am prompted to take this course my own conscience and the dark walls of the prison, which I see more visable, before me, within the last few months. Since I have seen so many of my old confederates in crime snatched by your officers and thrown into prison. I now come to my senses and resolve to clean myself, and regive a solemn vow to reform and lead an honest life if I ever touch this wicked business again may I never hope for mercy.

P. S. I have lived a fearful life. Since I have made the resolves, as required above, I feel a relief to my mind which I have not felt before for twelve years, but never to late to repent.

It is useless to try to trace me out, for when this reaches you I will be gone foreign.

Very respectfully, D. C.

In view of the energy with which the secret service detectives seem to wage war against counterfeitors it is astonishing that the latter should be able to carry on their operations so boldly as appears in a paragraph of Western news. In Cincinnati a man was arrested for drunkenness, and on his person was found sixty dollars in counterfeit money and a circular from the makers of this money advertising it.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.

Every counterfeit that has ever been made has one or more mistakes in it. Our aim is to show what that mistake is.

NATIONAL BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH, New York City.

10s, imitation. A very dangerous counterfeit. The face of the bill is well done, and the green ink on the back a good color. Observe the representation of De Soto on the back of the bill—the hind legs of his horse are quite indistinct—in genuine they are distinct and well defined. Signatures engraved. Look out for them.

MARKET NAT. BANK, N. Y. City

20s, imitation. Well done and very likely to deceive. The green ink is darker than on the genuine.

FIRST NAT. BANK, Manitowoc, Wis.

10s raised from 1s. On right end die X is inserted instead of 1; on the borders of the bill are figures 10 instead of 1.

NATIONAL BK OF COMMERCE, N. Y.

20s imitation. Signatures engraved. In the Cashiers name, the i in VAIL looks more like an e, there being no dot over the i, as in genuine. General appearance good. The child on the lap of the Indian girl—on the back of the note—is very indistinct.

5s, GREENBACKS.

The green ornamental engraving, lengthwise of the bill, in the counterfeit, is of a paler color than in the genuine, and has a brighter look than the dark green of the original. Seen under the microscope the engraving is coarse, but to the naked eye the bills have a very good appearance.

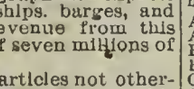
10s GREENBACKS.

The engraving is coarse. The vignette of Lincoln is a very indifferent engraving, and the scroll work around the medallion is poorly imitated. Letter C, twenty-third series.

10s, GREENBACKS.

An excellent imitation of the genuine. Note the following discrepancies. In the genuine, the shading around the 10 in the medallion appears like a fine net work, and runs close up to the figures. In the counterfeit, the shading is "picked up," and becomes coarser as it reaches the figures, forming a light streak or circular haze. Another test is on the figure 10 within the light circle. The genuine has three and one-third dots on the left on the fig. 10, while the counterfeit has but three. Thus:

GENUINE. COUNTERFEIT.



But the surest test is under the left wing of the eagle. The genuine has FOUR DISTINCT ROWS OF FEATHERS under the wing, while in the counterfeit the rows of feathers are undefined. One issue of this counterfeit is of the new series, letter D, No. 53; another is letter D, with a small 5 under the D, No. 23. These counterfeits are the best we have ever seen.

Newer issues have appeared lately, in which the defects above referred to have been corrected. We would advise our patrons to refuse all tens, greenbacks, unless they know the parties from whom they receive them.

20s, GREENBACKS.

A dangerous counterfeit. Green ink a good color, but the paper too yellow. Principal defect is the die. No clear and distinct lines around the 20. Looks more like a collection of several spots. Female well done, but the face rather coarser than the genuine.

50s, GREENBACKS.

Imitation. Observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin. The 5 in the imitation runs into the 0 on the lower left corner, and reads 550 instead of 50. The buttons on Hamilton's vest which are very distinct in genuine are scarcely discernable in the counterfeit. Genuine has FIVE while in the counterfeit you can hardly see FOUR. The note is dated March 10th, 1863. We would advise our patrons to scrutinize carefully all $50 Treasury Notes, unless they know the parties from whom they receive them.

FRAUDULENT BANKS.

Lynn Park National Bank, N. Y. (No such bank.)

2s. Very well done.

Nat. Union Bank of Linderpark, N. Y.

2s, (NO SUCH BANK) well calculated to deceive.

National Bank of Idaho Territory.

10s. Well done.

National Bank of the State "IN" N. Y.

10s. Coarsely done.

Mechanics' National Bank of Janesville, N. Y.—(NO SUCH BANK.)

10s. A very good looking bill—look out for them.

THE COUNTERFEIT REVENUE STAMPS.—The Internal Revenue Bureau has definite information to the effect that only one thousand sheets of the counterfeit sixty pound tobacco were issued altogether. Five hundred of these have been traced to different localities and seized by the government officials. The amount still out represent abont $57,000, but it is thought they will be captured eventually. The internal revenue officials say it is the best counterfeit stamp ever executed. It is believed that all the plates, dies and other implements used in manufacturing the stamp have been secured by the detectives, so that the bogus stamp cannot be multiplied beyond the three thousand or so that are still afloat,

THE NEW TREASURY NOTES.—The following is a description of the new one and two dollar United States Treasury notes:

The new one dollar notes has a vignette of Washington and a representation of the discovery of America by Columbus on the face, instead of the vignette of Chief Justice Chase, as on those now in use.

The new two dollar notes has a vignette of Jefferson and a view of the Capital, instead of the vignette of Franklin on the present ones. The plates for these notes have already been engraved at the Treasury Department.

The backs of the "ones" will be printed by the National Bank Note Company of New York, and those of the "twos" by the American Company of the same city.

The designs for the new fives, tens, twenties and other denominations, have not yet been determined upon.

Counterfeit Tobacco Stamps.

The points of difference between the counterfeit and the genuine stamp are so marked as to be easily detected by the glass. They are as follows:

FIRST; The imprint in the counterfeit is badly engraved, and a trifle larger than the genuine. The words "Continental Bank Note Co., New York," in the genuine are small, distinct, and not connected, each letter standing separate, while in the counterfeit the letters are heavier, and more crowded, larger, and closer together, and in the word "Continental" the "l" joins the "n," making the "l" and "n" look like an "m," with a period at the end of the imprint in the counterfeit, which is omitted in the genuine.

SECOND: In the sky of the counterfeit, over the mane of the horse, will be observed four small dots; in the genuine the sky is made of straight lines.

THIRD: The ornamentations resembling small stars on each side of the vignette in the lathe work of the counterfeit look imperfect and blurred, while in the genuine they appear bright.

FOURTH: Over the white faced figure "6" on the left side of the stamp in the genuine is a small black figure, a part of the lathe work pattern which is wanting in the counterfeit, and the imitation lathe work of the counterfeit has a muddy appearance, while in the genuine the patterns are clear and distinct.

They are payable thirty years from date of issue, and are registered in bonds of 1,000, $5,000, and $10,000. Amount issued up to Sept., '69.....$60,850,320

A counterfeit coupon for three dollars, purporting to belong to a one hundred dollar 5.20 bond, has been received at the Treasury Department, which had been sent from Germany to New York, cashed here and forwarded to Washington for collection. The counterfeit is a lithograph, and when compared with the genuine coupon it could be easily detected by the most inexperienced persons; as the execution is rough and inartistic, the paper thin and common, and a trifle shorter than the genuine coupon. It assumes to belong to the 5.20s of 1862, fourth series, and bore the stamp of some German house on the back, but too indistinctly to be deciphered fully.

COUNTERFEIT FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

Old Issue.

50s, imit., the portraits of Washington differs one from another; in the genuine they are all alike; the green color looks light and pale.

25s, imit., well executed. Look out.

2d Issue.

10s, imitation. All gen. on the top has the word "Depositaries," the imitation reads "Depositories."

50s, imit., have a pale slate color. The small barrels on lower right corner are very indistinct. The gen. have six barrels perfectly clear and plain Three on lower row, two on next, and one on top. The counterfeit barrels are black, and gen. are white.

50s raised from 5s.

3d Issue.

50c. imit.; two kinds of the new long 50 cent currency. The imitation of one kind has DISIGNATED on upper right corner instead of DESIGNATED. The second kind has designated correctly spelt, but on the little American Shield, under the Eagle, there is a black line drawn across the upright bars of the Shield. Not so on the genuine.

25s, imit., are very pale and coarse. The letter C in cents on left end is smaller than the other letters, and too far off.

New Issue.

25, imitation. Above the words "Treasury Department," on the bottom of the bill in the genuine there is a fine NOTTEN line—the counterfeits have a straight line.

Notice the shading of the "25" on the back of the note. The genuine is dark, while the counterfeits is very pale, and very little darker than the other green. The word "of" on the face of the genuine appears thus—"of"—on the counterfeit "of."

25s, imit., well executed, out may be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word Treasurer under Spinner's name; the work is better than any we have previously seen and liable to deceive unless carefully examined.

25s, well executed; head of Chittenden; where it reads "Furnished only by the Assistant Treasurers" the Assistant is spelt "Assistata." In the genuine the shading of the letter "E" in "Five" is unbroken, while the counterfeit has a little notch in it.

50s, well executed. The engraving on the face of the note is excellent. The adverse is slightly blurred. The notes are an eighth of an inch narrower than the genuine.

50s, the "y" in "Colby's" name crosses a line of the coat in the genuine, but not in the counterfeit.

50s, the line of stars on counterfeit between the figures "50" at the top and bottom of the back of the note have WHITE centres, while the entire stars on genuine are in green. The reading in black on the genuine note clear and distinct, while on the counterfeit the bronze is printed on the black, the words "FIFTY CENTS" being almost obliterated.

50s, well done. The last "e" in the signature of F. E. Spinner is omitted in some, and the (.) after print. on one end, and the d. after March 30.

50s. New and dangerous counterfeits of the last issue of the fifty cent fractional currency notes, which bear upon their face the head of Treasurer Spinner, have been detected by the Treasury Department. It can be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word print on the right end, and also under the letter "d" in "March 3d," on the left end. The paper is thicker than that of the genuine notes, and the general appearance is calculated to deceive unless closely inspected.

COUNTERFEIT 7.30 BONDS.

The seal is slightly larger than the genuine; the red ink with which it is stamped is a shade lighter, and the points projecting from the seal are blurred and a little longer than the genuine. The imprint at the bottom of the face of the bond is set different in the margin, there being more space given it than in the genuine. The borders of the coupon which are attached to the counterfeit bonds are larger, while the red figures are finer than in the genuine. The borders of the ornamental lathe work are blurred and somewhat indifferently executed. The figures denoting the bond are slightly uneven, while the blue ink in which they are printed is a duller blue and lacks the metallic glossy appearance of the genuine.

1000s—right end, Capitol of Washington—left end, Gen. Scott entering the City of Mexico. Other side, Washington resigning his commission.

GREENBACKS.

1s, upper left end, a large oval portrait of Chase; 1 in green below—right end, 1 in a fancy die; signatures of Treasurer of United States and Register of Treasury on a green tint below; a strip of black lathe work between signatures.

50s left centre, oval portrait of Hamilton; Treasury die in pink on right of die; 50 on die on each end of note.

COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS.

1s, (1st kind) can be readily detected by the inferior style of the engraving, particularly the head of Chase. The mouth is crooked, the eyes imperfect, and the hair on the top of the head resembles side hair brushed over to cover baldness. The back is of a lighter green than the genuine.

1s, (2d kind) the general appearance is very coarse and may readily be detected; green ink is very pale. On the imitation there is a BLACK STRAIGHT LINE under the red figures on the upper part of the bill; none in gen.

2s, imit., well executed. Coat of Hamilton badly done. The shirt bosom of Hamilton is very dark and uneven, but in the genuine white and plain. The shading of the words "UNITED STATES" light and broken.

5s, 10s, genuine notes without the red seal, and others reported without the usual number being printed upon them.

5s, imit., words "United States" heavily shaded. Gen. are clear, lightly shaded and plain. The words "Patented 30th June, 1857," under the words N. York are not on the counterfeit bill. All the counterfeits are letter A, and are ¼ inch shorter than the genuine.

On the new series of letter "A," around the figure of Liberty on left end is a plain black line. On the counterfeits, this line along the bottom of the figure running towards the right of the note forms two distinct lines, on gen. only ONE. But this may be a counterfeiter's dodge to have it described and alter it afterwards.

5s, imit., this bill is well calculated to deceive, and the only difference we can detect is in the die on the right end enclosing the figure 5. The genuine has three black circles enclosing the 5. The imit. has only two, and on lower right end figure 3, and on left end series 90.

10s. Paper very light, and the green ink of a lighter shade. Dated March 10th, 1862.

10s imit. There are 16 small Xs on upper right margin, and only 15 on the genuine. The words "Printed by the National Bk Note Co." on lower left margin extends over 9 of the Xs on imit. and 8 on the genuine.

10s, imit., has 14 small x's on upper right margin—16 on left. The gen. has 15 x's each side of engravers name. Portrait of Prest. Lincoln is very coarse and pale looking; imit. are dated Washington, March 10, 1862, letter C.

20s, very close imit. of gen., the engraving is good, in the center figure the foot of the female can scarcely be seen. On the left end bottom are the words "Payable at the Treasury of the U. S. at New York." The A's in payablo are too small and uneven. The letter 'E' in the word 'The' is not crossed in the centre. The imprint is defective; tho green ink is of too light a color.

50s, alt'd from 2s, portrait of Hamilton on left centre. The vignettes of the two-dollar and fifty-dollar Treasury note are the same. Ingenious persons are counterfeiting the body of the fifties and using the vignettes of the twos, producing a note that deceives experts.

50s, imit. observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin, the 5 in the imit. runs into the 0, gen. does not. The word 'FIFTY' around the above 50 can scarcly be read. Words 'LEGAL TENDER' is very much blurred. Letter C dated March 3, '63. On the left lower corner the No 550 instead of 50 enclosed in one circle.

50s, imit., observe the head of Hamilton, upon the face of the note, which represents the line of the waistcoat crossing the white collar at the neck. The acute angle formed by the shape of the collar, so far as it is shown, is perfect in the counterfeit note; but in the genuine the lines of the flesh were drawn by the engraver across the point of the collar at its junction with the waistcoat, for the purpose of relieving the angle of the sharpness it would otherwise have exhibited. This difference is not readily observed unless the notes are perfectly clean. The other discrepancy is in the shape of the ornaments in the border on each end of the face of the bills, and in the whole border on the back. The figures "50" are engraved on a green ground, of which the rim, in the genuine bill, is in octagonal form, rather well defined, though the angles are not sharp. The eight sides of what at first view appeared to be circles, may be easily discerned. In the counterfeit bill the border ornaments, containing the "50" are octagonal in only a very slight degree, and seem to be perfect circles. The general appearance of the counterfeit gives no indication of its true character.

100s, imit. the red figures are much larger than the figures of any Treasury Notes, the wings of the eagle are very coarse—the double rule running from it is heavier, and the curve twice as large, while there is a diagonal shading at the joint of the imprint with the rule, which does not appear on the genuine. On the right end of the back of the bill, the 100 in the circles are inverted, thus, 001. In the genuine this inversion is on the left end. The imprint, American Bank Note Co., is very uneven, and too large.

100s, imit., (2d kind) of the notes issued under the act of February, 1862, well executed. The spurious note is smaller, and the coloring on the back is paler than on the genuine bill. The words "one hundred dollars" on the right hand side of the counterfeit are smaller than on the genuine note.

100s, imit., (3d kind) the note is smaller than the genuine, the spread eagle is very coarse, and the shading of UNITED STATES is badly done. The bill is calculated to deceive.

COUNTERFEIT COUPONS.

The following are the words on the coupons:

"Acts of July 17 and August 5, 1861. The United States of America will pay to bearer fifteen dollars for six months' interest due 1st January, 1867, upon bond No. 785, for $500. L. E. Chittenden, Register United States Treasury.

FIVE CENT COIN COUNTERFEITS

Are in circulation. They may be distinguished from the genuine by the softness of the metal
